

VERIZON

4G LTE

Looking to be a part of something BIG ?

Internships and Co-Ops just don't get any better than this. At Verizon Wireless, you'll experience the challenge, excitement and reward of working for the largest and most advanced wireless voice and data network in the world. You'll work with the latest technologies, learn from the best minds in the industry and have a unique opportunity to use your knowledge and skills in an environment dedicated to maintaining global network superiority.

Radio Frequency (RF) Performance Engineer Intern/Co-op (Req No. 283763)

Selected candidate will be assigned to provide assistance to Radio Frequency (RF) & System Performance Engineers with implementing new cell- site in the network and optimizing cellular network performance, customer trouble tickets resolution, daily network performance monitoring, network problem troubleshooting, drive testing, and related projects. The intern will be responsible for generating monthly network performance reports and generating RF propagations maps.

We are currently seeking candidates for 2012 internship/co-op assignments in San Diego, CA. These are 4 – 6 month assignments.

Program Qualifications:

- Graduate student or undergraduate (junior or senior) pursuing a degree in Electrical Engineering or related field
- Studies and career interest in wireless communications or digital communications.
- Minimum GPA of 3.0
- Demonstrated Leadership experience in work, extracurricular or school activity.
- Minimum 1 intern or co-op experience strongly preferred
- US citizen or permanent resident status
- Strong verbal and written communication skills.
- Team Player with good organizational and planning skills.
- Demonstrated ability to use and apply analytical and problem solving skills.
- Self-starter, ability with demonstrated ability to successfully multi-task.
- Strong interest in the wireless telecommunications industry
- Solid understanding of engineering concepts & drive to learn
- Able to work flexible hours and support night and weekend work as needed

Apply online at www.verizonwireless.com/careers
Search for Job Opening #283763 – Engineering Coop

We are an EEO/m/f/d/v Employer