

AEGIS CS Job Opportunity

My name is Jeff Zisner and I own and operate AEGIS Private Security, a recently established small business specializing in customer service based security services here in Los Angeles. With minimal expertise in website search engine optimization, I am seeking guidance on finding an educated intern for the Spring 2012 semester seeking real world experience working with a niche business. The semester long internship would be unpaid and perfect for someone looking for college credit, a project, or experience for a resume.

Thank you for your time.

Regards,

Jeff Zisner
