

ACT, Association for Careers in Technology, is the liaison between companies in the industry and students here at the UCLA campus. We are having an info session with Accenture this coming Monday October 11, 2010.

The time of the event is Monday, 10/11 from 6 - 8 PM
The location is at: Boelter Hall 4760

Accenture is a global management consulting, technology services and outsourcing company, with more than 190,000 people serving clients in more than 120 countries. Combining unparalleled experience, comprehensive capabilities across all industries and business functions, and extensive research on the world's most successful companies, Accenture collaborates with clients to help them become high-performance businesses and governments. The company generated net revenues of US$21.58 billion for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 2009. Its home page is www.accenture.com <<http://www.accenture.com/>>.

*Accenture Careers Description

Accenture is one of the world's leading management consulting, technology services and outsourcing companies. We have more than 190,000 people in more than 120 countries and work with clients in nearly every major industry worldwide, including 96 of the /Fortune/ Global 100, three-quarters of the /Fortune/ Global 500 and government agencies around the world.

The main reason people choose a career at Accenture is because of the work we do. With many of the world's leading companies as our clients, you can make a difference and help shape the future of business, government and society.

The sheer scale of capabilities and client engagements differentiates what we do from most other companies. Many of our clients are global organizations, so we craft solutions and build systems that affect companies around the world – creating the infrastructure of business today. We know better than most how to mobilize the right people, skills, alliances and technologies to deliver innovation and results that create high-performance businesses.

We have consistently produced solid financial results in both good times and bad, generating net revenues of US$21.58 billion last fiscal year (ended Aug. 31, 2009). Accenture is one of the world's most recognized business brands, associated with deep industry and business process expertise, broad global resources and proven experience in consulting, technology and outsourcing.

By joining Accenture, you will be part of a global company with a world-class brand and reputation, reinforced by a code of business ethics and core values focused on serving our clients, developing our people and contributing to the community as responsible corporate citizens.

With innovation at the heart of our business, the variety of work is continuous as we collaborate with our clients to explore new ways of creating high performance. This will give you endless opportunities to challenge yourself with interesting work.

Another reason to join Accenture is because our people enjoy working here. Accenture is made up of diverse teams of highly motivated people who are committed to achieving outstanding results. You can learn from and be coached by the very best people – supportive, approachable leaders and colleagues with great expertise across all areas of our business.

Accenture's truly dynamic environment means you will be able to take advantage of a variety of opportunities through which you can tailor your career, develop specialized expertise and grow professionally. Who wouldn't want to constantly build their skills through coaching, training and on-the-job experiences?

We understand that Accenture's most important asset is its people. That's why we recognize that people have different priorities in their lives at different times. So we have a flexible approach that encourages you to strike the right balance between work and personal life.

Visit our website to learn more about entry-level consulting jobs <http://www.campusconnection.accenture.com/> at Accenture.