

We're hiring! Aerospace offers both entry level and internship positions at our headquarters location in El Segundo, California, and at our regional site in Chantilly, Virginia.

We are seeking students majoring in science and engineering, electrical engineering, computer science, mechanical engineering, aerospace engineering, information systems, and mathematics.

Use the key word "intern" to apply!

Apply Online

We have a rare collection of the most intelligent people in the field, fully empowered to do their best work. Help us solve the most complex technical challenges. We offer competitive compensation programs, a flexible work schedule, and mentor programs targeted at developing our employees.