

Anderson Computing & Information Services
Student Programmer Position

Anderson computing and information services department is looking for a student programmer for the summer. We offer 12$/hour and we are looking for 40 hr/week during the summer with an option to extend it after the academic year (10-20 hours/week).

Tasks

- Building web services to integrate Anderson systems with UCLA course management system
- Daily writing of project and program documentation is essential.

Requirements

- PHP development experience.
- MySQL experience.
- Web development experience.
- Web services understanding.
- Excellent communication skills and the ability to take direction and learn quickly.
- Independent, good problem solving skills, strong organization skills, and professional demeanor.
- Ability to analyze complex problems, quickly develops creative solutions, and adapt to a fast paced environment.
- Ability to multi-task projects

Pluses

- .Net
- C#
- Microsoft SQL server

Contact Information:

Nurit Meir
Educational support Services Manager
Anderson Computing & Information Services
nurit.meir@anderson.ucla.edu