

FinCapDev - A Mobile App Development Competition

FinCapDev is a nationwide challenge administered by the D2D Fund and the Center for Financial Services Innovation to develop the new mobile applications that will help working Americans make smart financial choices and better access financial services.

FinCapDev is currently open for proposals to develop fully functional mobile apps <<http://fincapdev.com/>>. Finalists will demo their fully functional apps at a financial services industry event in June 2013 in front of a panel of expert judges who will award three cash prizes totaling $100,000.
