

Mobile Engineering Internship iPhone / iOS / Android / BlackBerry

General Info

Foundero Inc. has been creating high-end cross-platform mobile applications for the past 3 years. We have created many high-profile apps for big-name Entertainment and Location Based industry clients. We are rapidly growing and have many choice contract projects in development.

Position Details

The Ideal candidate would be a quick learning, senior Computer Science major. We have expert mobile engineers for mentorship, but the intern will also be given a great deal of freedom to learn and experiment on real, press worthy projects. The intern will also learn end-to-end development, from requirements gathering and proposals to development and deployment of applications. Subsequent to a successful internship a job offer is very likely. FYI: Mobile Engineers get paid very well in the industry!

$15/hr - Work to be done part onsite – part remote

Please contact jeff@foundero.com