

About Gamzee

Gamzee (that's GAME-zi) is building the next generation of fun, truly social games that you can play anywhere you want - on your computer, on your tablet, on your phone (and wherever they put the Web next!).

We're located within walking distance from UCLA near Gayley & Weyburn. Check us out online at www.gamzee.com.

Software Engineer Intern

The ideal candidate has a strong software engineering background and some experience with game programming.

Responsibilities

All of our engineers work on the full stack. This includes a JavaScript client, a Java server, and tools in any number of languages - your choice if you are creating one from scratch.

Compensation

$15 - $30 hourly, depending on experience.

Timeline

We're looking for someone who can work full-time (40 hours per week) for the remainder of the summer, starting immediately. If you gel with our team and make a strong contribution, a part or full-time position during the school year may become available.

Applying

Please send your full resume in PDF format to sean@gamzee.com.