

Hitachi Consulting's Inspiration Consulting Summit

Hitachi is launching a 3-day Leadership Conference at our top recruitment schools across the nation. The purpose of this Summit is to assist us in identifying outstanding Juniors that are actively involved in student organizations that we partner with in addition to branching out to diversity related groups. We are targeting 34 students from our targeted universities across the nation to attend this Summit, which will be held in Denver the week of July 9th. The Inspiration Consulting Summit will allow Hitachi Consulting to be competitive and proactive at our top schools so we can develop young talent to hopefully be great consultants! All costs for the program are covered. We'd like to get 2-3 people from UCLA into this conference.
