

ITG is coming to UCLA!

Check out our Summer Internship Opportunities!

<http://www.itg.com>

ITG will be on campus conducting interviews for Technology Development Summer Analyst opportunities for our Culver City office on Thursday, March 1, 2012. We would like to invite talented students with a passion for Computer Science or Engineering to view the details of the Technology Development role and apply for our internship program by submitting their resumes through BruinView.

ITG is an independent research and execution broker that partners with global portfolio managers and traders to provide unique data-driven insights throughout the investment process. From investment decision through settlement, ITG helps clients understand market trends, improve performance, mitigate risk and navigate increasingly complex markets.

ITG offers nine week paid summer internships to talented students with the motivation and intellectual curiosity required to help us provide best-in-class service and innovative trading solutions for our clients. We look for visionaries in the following areas: Information Technology, QA, Software Development, and Technology. If you're an independent thinker looking for a place to unleash your innovative side and make an immediate contribution to our bottom-line, we hope to receive your resume!
