INTERN - MANUFACTURING ENGINEER

Breathe Technologies is a venture-backed medical device start-up company focused on new medical technologies for patients with respiratory diseases. We are fundamentally changing the way traditional respiratory therapy is delivered. At Breathe Technologies, it is all about the patients we serve. Learn more at Breathetechnologies.com.

We are seeking a Manufacturing Engineer intern to learn and develop skills and capabilities while assisting with planning and coordinating manufacturing processes and process improvements. This is a paid position.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Assist in investigations, analysis and problem-solving activities related to design and process deficiencies.
- Assist with creation of detailed Manufacturing Instructions to support new processes and equipment.
- Assist with quality assurance standards, processes and controls.
- Support the Manufacturing team by tracking manufacturing failures and analyzing trend data.

POSITION REQUIREMENTS:

- Currently working toward a Bachelor’s or Master’s Degree in Engineering.
- Efficient with MS Office, Word, Excel, Power Point.
- Basic understanding of design drawing aid programs, SolidWorks a definite plus.
- Must have good written and verbal communication skills.
- Able to interact in a positive, constructive manner with staff members on all levels.

HOW TO APPLY:

Resumes may be emailed to danam@breathetechnologies.com