

Looking for web/mobile developers for ITA Venture competition

I am looking for some web/mobile app developers to join my team for the ITA Venture competition (<http://www.ita.ucla.edu/>). My startup idea is a web service that helps facilitates the sharing of small items among college students who live near one another. Imagine: the principle behind CouchSurfing combined with a Craigslist-like site.

Some experience with Python (Django), HTML, CSS, Javascript, jQuery, Android, or iOS is preferred.

I am a first year EE graduate student who could code the entire site myself, but would prefer to have some others to work with :). You would become a technical co-founder of the startup.

If you are interested or want more information, please email me at gwkin1989@gmail.com or kting531@g.ucla.edu