

Medtronic – Professional Engineering Internship

Medtronic has a pilot program that they are launching in early 2017 which is geared toward increasing the pipeline of female STEM talent who would be interested in returning from a career break. This pilot program will be a six month contract position with the goal of turning into a full time role.

The below link will give you an overview of the program.

<http://www.medtronic.com/us-en/about/careers/career-development/careers-for-professional-engineers.html>