

U.S. Missile Defense Agency

MISSILE DEFENSE. IT'S NOT A GAME
BUT YOU DO GET TO SAVE THE WORLD.

LEAD ONE OF THE GREATEST TECHNOLOGICAL ACHIEVEMENTS OF OUR TIME.

Launch your career alongside our nation's brightest minds as part of the Missile Defense Agency (MDA). You'll be mentored and gain the experience and expertise you need to succeed. Stability, incredible growth potential and work/life balance are the benefits of a career with MDA. That and the chance to preserve freedom and protect your world. This isn't your average career opportunity. But then again, MDA isn't your average government agency.

The Missile Defense Career Development Program

We are currently assembling an entry-level team of college graduates to assist in developing and deploying on of the most challenging and advanced technological undertakings since the Manhattan Project. The Missile Defense Career Development Program (MDCDP) is a fully paid, two-year developmental program that allows students with a technical or administrative focus to apply their talents to the unique challenges on which we work. You will earn a competitive salary and enjoy outstanding benefits while working alongside some of the brightest, most motivated thinkers of our time.

We're seeking recent college graduates in these specialties:

- Acquisition/Contract & Procurement
- Budgeting or Accounting
- Engineering (All Disciplines)
- Facilities Management
- Financial Management
- Foreign Affairs
- Human Resources
- Information Technology
- Intelligence
