

Job: SPAWAR Systems Center Pacific

SPAWAR Systems Center Pacific is primarily recruiting outstanding computer science, computer engineering, software engineering and electrical engineering candidates for positions in our New Professional Program. SSC Pacific is the Navy's premier research and development laboratory for information technology, systems conceptualization, development and deployment. Among the opportunities we offer are careers in the innovative areas of command, control, communications, computers, intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance.