Sanitation Districts of Los Angeles County Civil/Environmental Engineering Undergraduate Fellowships

Civil/Environmental Engineering Undergraduate Fellowships
Sanitation Districts of Los Angeles County

The program provides fellowships of $2,000 to $5,000 per year for two to five undergraduate students at each participating university. The seven Los Angeles County Universities that have ABET accredited Civil/Environmental Engineering Programs and are eligible to participate are:

Cal Poly Pomona
Cal State Los Angeles
Cal State Long Beach
Cal State Northridge
Loyola Marymount University
UCLA
USC

Application process: Interested students, who will be attending one of the universities listed above during academic year 2011-2012, should fill out the online application <<http://www.lacsd.org/education/engundergradfello.asp>>. The Sanitation Districts will forward completed applications to the designated universities, each of whom have a selection committee that will award the fellowships. Students that are considering a career in Civil/Environmental Engineering will be evaluated by university specific criteria, but the following general criteria will be considered (in no particular order):

students in financial need;
students with good academic performance and outstanding potential; and students participating in extracurricular activities that demonstrate the ability to communicate and work in a team environment.

The Sanitation Districts may make contact with fellowship applicants for purposes such as mentoring, providing information about job opportunities and inviting students to tours and other professional events. Funds will be distributed when students demonstrate full time enrollment and good academic standing.

Application
(Due on May 9, 2011 - note: USC Students must apply by March 1st)
