

Hey Bruins!

Toot is a local startup for an awesome and innovative app that connects students with independent tutors. We are looking for tutors (ongoing) & marketing strategy interns (fall) to become a part of our growing team! We offer specific UCLA courses that you can teach or be taught, and we have many eager students from local high schools and middle schools who are ready to learn from you!

Brief Descriptions:

-Marketing Strategy Intern (Bruin Ambassadors, starting in the fall)-

Ideal for those looking to enter the business world, best suited for those interested in strategy, marketing, or consulting. Deals with budgeting, allocation, and event organization. Final deliverable/result to brag about on resume will be a massive amount of seeding money, onboarding of users, brand awareness, and the success of a second stage start up. Also comes with a gleaming letter of recommendation and networking with the founder.
